

What's New at the Anstice?

A new boiler! It's been a challenging couple of months, as without any heating the Anstice had to be closed whilst a new heating system was installed and necessary electrical work was completed. But only to be expected with a building who will soon be celebrating her 150th birthday.

With the radiators now warm and new electrics the Anstice is due to re-open its doors in June with a varied programme of events from a Film Festival to a Concert by Hadley Male Voice Orpheus Choir; Soul Nights to a Horse Race evening; Bingo to a Halloween Panto, to name just a few. So hopefully something for everyone's enjoyment.

The Anstice Ballroom will once again be available for hire, so if you're looking for a venue to hold your family "do" or for your club to meet, just get in touch.

The Anstice needs volunteers to make all these activities happen, and to help raise funds towards the refurbishment of this wonderful building. So if you have an hour or two to spare, Anstice Community Trust would love to hear from you. Just ring 01952 567280 or call in to Jubilee House to find out about the forthcoming events, to enquire about hiring the Anstice, or to volunteer your time to help.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

TO MAKE THE ANSTICE HAPPEN

Whatever your interest or skills, however much or little time you have to give, the Anstice needs your help to put it back once again at the heart of Madeley.

-  Organise your own event to help raise funds for the Anstice refurbishment
-  Use your baking and tea-making skills to help with refreshments at one of the Anstice events
-  Give an hour to help put up posters to publicise activities
-  Volunteer your spare time to help set up the Anstice for events
-  Help with practical tasks such as decorating

And so much more!
